

Contemporary provision of healthcare

The action “Contemporary provision of healthcare” is carried out for the 3rd consecutive school year in secondary schools all over Greece. The action aims to inform students about career prospects in the health sector, the association and role of technology in the sector, and the importance of awareness and precautions.

As part of the action, employees of the Onassis Cardiac Surgery Centre, assume the role of mentors and talk to students about the multiple specialties, professions, and the daily life of a healthcare professional. Through their knowledge and experience, they answer students' questions and help them gain a better understanding of the career opportunities in this industry.

Suggested topics in the context of the action:

- Healthcare professions: professional options and opportunities related to Healthcare professions.
- Technology & Health (Innovation, Artificial Intelligence, Modern Health Technology, Health Informatics, Digitisation of Health Services, etc.).
- The importance of precaution.
- Working conditions and how a hospital is organised.
- Legal and ethical issues in the Healthcare sector.

The action is implemented with the support of the Onassis Cardiac Surgery Centre for the school year 2023-2024.
