

From the metropolitan cities of the world to the school classes of Greece

30 members of the Onassis Scholars' Association become mentors and introduce students all over Greece to Entrepreneurship, Research, and Culture.

Acclaimed professionals who currently live in metropolitan cities throughout the world and combine multiple scientific and professional fields, talk with the students about their knowledge of their sector, highlighting the importance of interdisciplinarity in our days.

Through live sessions and asynchronous questions and answers, students throughout Greece connect with metropolitan cities around the world, so students can broaden their horizons and discover new paths in the sectors of Entrepreneurship, Research, and Culture, and get inspired for their next steps.

The project "From the metropolitan cities of the world to the school classes of Greece" is implemented with the support of the Onassis Scholars' Association for the school year 2022-23.
