

Contemporary Provision of Healthcare

For the 2nd consecutive year, professionals from the Onassis Cardiac Surgery Center reach schools throughout Greece, via the project “Contemporary provision of healthcare”.

The live sessions with the students entail the following:

- Introduction to different parts of the health sector and familiarization with the prospects and the potential challenges of each specialty
- Informing students regarding the healthcare supply chain
- Research in the health sector
- Integration of innovation and technology in healthcare and,
- Contemporary organization and provision of health services

The students set the conversation agenda and doctors, nurses, surgeons, biologists, administrative, and other professionals of Onassis Cardiac Surgery Center, share their experiences by promptly introducing the health provision sector, in order to highlight the opportunities, the prestige, and the value of these specific professions.

The initiative is carried out with the support of Onassis Cardiac Surgery Center during the school year 2022-2023.