

Contemporary provision of Healthcare

For the school year of 2021-2022, professionals of the health sector reach schools throughout Greece via the collaboration of The Tipping Point with the Onassis Cardiac Surgery Center.

The subjects of the conversation include:

- job opportunities and possibilities related to the health sector,
- the constant need for specialization of the health professions, securing the high quality of the provision of healthcare,
- the importance of interdisciplinary cooperation for the provision of healthcare,
- the inclusion of innovation and technology in the provision of healthcare,
- the digitalization of the healthcare services
- the provision of healthcare with “value” for the patient and their family.

While students set the agenda of the conversation, Cardiologists, Cardiac Surgeons, Nurses, Biologists, Administrative staff and other professionals of the Onassis Cardiac Surgery Center, share their own experience, through live sessions and asynchronously, “introducing” the healthcare sector in order to highlight the opportunities, the influence and the importance of healthcare professions.
