

THI Australia and members of the Greek Australian Community support the youth in Greece

Since 2019, The Hellenic Initiative Australia (THI Australia) and members of the Greek Australian community have been actively supporting the new generation of their homeland back in Greece, by offering schools all across the country the opportunity to implement the #TTPprogram.

The areas these schools are situated in are, more often than not, remote; as a result, young people have limited access to stimuli and it is hard to be up to speed with the latest changes taking place in the professional world. Greeks in Australia invest in the youth -the future- of their homeland, by empowering students and by building a bridge between their schools and the world! This way students receive stimuli, familiarize themselves with professions and sectors, discover their strengths, and develop skills, thus contributing to lower youth unemployment rates and the boost of local economies.

The program is implemented with the support of The Hellenic Initiative Australia for the school year 2022-23.
